

A phone turns a snack purchase into feedback

At the game, a student buys popcorn and rates the experience on her phone.

What could the business learn from that rating?

Think quietly. You may point, jot, whisper, or share.

What could help the next customer?

Choose one example. What customer need or want could it help?

A Use ratings to learn what customers liked

B Make pickup quicker or easier

C Show visitors what they may like

Choose first. Then give one reason. There can be more than one good idea.

One customer need or want. One marketing function.

Pick one exact term

Marketing information management
Gather customer wants, needs, or feedback

Product/service management
Improve the product or service

Promotion
Send messages that influence purchases

Selling
